I got this idea after I lost the man who was the love of my life. So for me I didn't want to write Dear Diary and just talk about him, I instead wanted to address the Dear to him and write him letters throughout my journal. So the idea for this journal came from my own personal experience and how it helped me get through a difficult time when I wrote those letters to him. Maybe if there is someone you want to write letters to this journal might just be what you are looking for.
