Active Learning Strategies and Vocabulary Achievement Nov 24 2022

Using a quantitative method of data collection, this research explored the question: Do active learning strategies used in grades 5 and 6 affect student vocabulary achievement in a positive or negative direction? In their research, Wolfe (2001), Headley, et al., (1995), Freiberg, et al., (1992), and Brunner (2009) emphasize the importance of understanding how children learn through active learning processes such as hands-on opportunities, cooperative learning, and technology-based instruction. Other researchers such as Baker, et al., (2000), Nagy, et al., (1987) and Searfoss, et al., (2001) stress the importance of meaningful vocabulary instruction when teaching reading. This study supports their findings, indicating that incorporating certain active learning strategies into vocabulary instruction leads to increased student achievement. For this study, two surveys were used. A population of thirty seven (37) fifth and sixth grade teachers was asked to complete both surveys, with a return rate of 57%. Results from the teacher surveys were compared to assessment results from the 888 students in grades 5th and 6th, looking for correlations and predictability within the sample. The student assessments are administered three times each academic year as part of the School District's local assessment process and were not solely administered for the purpose of this study. To answer the research question, the Survey of Instructional Practices and the Survey of Instructional Content questionnaire were reviewed and questions that appeared to be better indicators of active learning processes were selected and tested for correlations in student achievement. The results of the current study indicate that certain types of active learning tasks are beneficial to the performance of fifth grade students on ELAR testing. The three tasks are 1) independent reading from selecting material of their own choice 2) working on projects such as shows, plays, or dioramas and 3) researching and collecting information.

Building Background Knowledge for Academic Achievement Dec 25 2022 In Building Background Knowledge for Academic Achievement, Robert J. Marzano shows how a carefully structured combination of two approaches--sustained silent reading and instruction in subject-specific vocabulary terms--can help overcome the deficiencies in background knowledge that hamper the achievement of many children. Readers will learn * The principles that underlie an effective sustained silent reading program * A five-step process for using sustained silent reading to enhance background knowledge * The defining characteristics of effective vocabulary instruction * A six-step process for direct instruction in vocabulary in each discipline * The vocabulary terms critical to students' success in every academic subject Vignettes suggest how the recommended reading and vocabulary instruction programs might be implemented in elementary schools, middle and junior high schools, and high schools. The book also includes a list of 7,923 vocabulary terms culled from the national standards documents and other publications, organized into 11 subject areas and 4 grade-level categories. With its research-based recommendations and step-by-step approach, Building Background Knowledge equips educators with the tools they need to help close the achievement gap and enable all students to succeed.

Building Academic Vocabulary Mar 16 2022 In Building Academic Vocabulary: Teacher s Manual, Robert J. Marzano and Debra J. Pickering give teachers a practical way to help students master academic vocabulary. Research has shown that when teachers, schools, and districts take a systematic approach to helping students identify and master essential vocabulary and concepts of a given subject area, student comprehension and achievement rises. In the manual, readers will find the following tools: * A method to help teachers, schools, and districts determine which academic vocabulary terms are most essential for their needs * A six-step process for direct instruction in subject area vocabulary * A how-to to help students use the Building Academic Vocabulary: Student Notebook. The six-step method encourages students to learn critical academic vocabulary by connecting these terms to prior knowledge using linguistic and non-linguistic means that further encourage the refinement and deepening of their understanding. * Suggestions for tailoring academic vocabulary procedures for English Language Learners. * Samples and blackline masters for a variety of review activities and games that reinforce and refine student understanding of the academic terms and concepts they learn. The book also includes a list of 7, 923 vocabulary terms culled from the national standards documents and other publications, organized into 11 subject areas and 4 grade-level categories. Building Academic Vocabulary: Teacher s Manual puts into practice the research and ideas outlined in Marzano s previous book Building Background Knowledge for Academic Achievement. Using the teacher s manual and vocabulary notebooks, educators can guide students in using tools and activities that will help them deepen their own understanding of critical academic vocabulary--the building blocks for achievement in each discipline.

The Comparative Effects of Independent and Whole Class Active Student Response on Students' Vocabulary Achievement in a High School Social Studies Class Jun 26 2020 The purpose of this study was to examine the comparative effects of two vocabulary review methods on high school students' acquisition of social studies vocabulary. An ABCBC reversal design was used to compare independent review using Quizlet (www.quizlet.com) and whole class response review using Kahoot (www.kahoot.com). Following vocabulary review sessions (Quizlet or Kahoot), participants were administered vocabulary matching quiz. Overall, quiz results demonstrated that both review methods appeared to be effective, but differences between conditions were minimal.

Fun Learning Activities for Modern Foreign Languages Dec 21 2019 Students learning modern foreign languages often comment that it is just too hard to learn, and remember, all of vocabulary presented to them. Yes, there is a lot of content that needs to be covered, and a lot of vocabulary that needs to be learned. But there is a way of making this process engaging and motivating. Language lessons needn't be full of grammar worksheets, endless drilling and rote learning lists of vocabulary. Learning languages isn't always fun and games. But these aren't games; they are fun learning activities. And they can help revolutionise language teaching; enabling teachers to authoritatively impart knowledge while fostering a thirst for knowledge and love of learning in their students. First, the Vocab Fun Learning Activities (VFLAs) learn the vocabulary in ways which will improve recognition and recall. Then, the Fun Learning Activities use this vocabulary knowledge to build sentences and paragraphs; explore and use this language while keeping the whole class engaged and actively learning. The activities are designed to encourage all students to participate and learn more through enjoyment. Based on the author's extensive classroom experience, and underpinned by research into how students learn best, each activity comes complete with a detailed explanation and plenty of ideas for variations, differentiations and extensions. The activities come with example vocabulary lists in French, German and Spanish as a starting point, which are all available for download via a link provided in the book. However, the activities will work effectively in any language and with any vocabulary list of the teacher's choosing, and can be adapted to suit every topic, learning objective and age range. Discover ready to use activities which will make for outstanding lessons in every class and ensure engagement, motivation, rapport, progress and attainment over time.

FROM COMMUNICATIVE LANGUAGE TEACHING TO IMPROVE VOCABULARY ACHIEVEMENT: A Collection of Writings Aug 29 2020 In Indonesia, where English is regarded as foreign language, the teaching of this subject at most schools are still focused on the mastery of grammar and vocabulary. Moreover, the teaching and learning process is still using teacher-centered approach. Although, there are four skills - listening, speaking, reading and writing - should be covered in the teaching of this subject but the fact some teachers are still reluctant teaching speaking into practice. Therefore there is no improvement for both students who learn and teachers who teach and its application in the real world situation. What students learn only what is printed on the books and practice it in front of the class. The main problem usually comes from both teachers and students that they are non-active speaking speakers. But this can be solved by using Communicative Language Teaching. Since the use of technology such as video, television, audiotapes, the internet, computer soft, etc., can come to aid of such teachers and yang students. Using Communicative Language Teaching (CLT) will Help students to use the target language in an authentic and meaningful way
